TWENTY THOUSAND LIGHTS WILL MAKE OAKLAND STREETS BRILLIANT FOR THE SAILOR BOYS IN MAY

BUNTING TO BE SEEN ON ALL SIDES

Twenty-Six Blocks Will Be Decorated in Grand Style.

Great Public Reception to Metcalf to Be Given by Citizens on May 2.

The executive committee of the fleet reception met last night at their rooms in the Bacon block.

There were present at the meeting Chairman Geo. C. Pardee, Mayor Frank K. Mott, George W. Reed, Warren B. English, C. L. Tisdale, Frank W. Bilger, C. J. Heeseman, Edwin Stearns of the executive committee, Frank A. Leach Jr. of the reception committee, A. Jonas of the finance committee. The several chairmen reported progress.

Thousands of Lights

Mr. Heeseman, for the committee on decorations, presented several plans to the committee. The committee decided to decorate with bunting twenty-six blocks, which will cover the line of parade. The committee is very anxious to use electrical decoration each evening during the stay of the fleet, using 20,000 incandescent lamps. The design is an attractive one and in itself would be the means of drawing very many people to Oakland.

To Receive Metcalf

Chairman Reed of the committee on reception reported that the committee had engaged headquarters for Secretary of the Navy Metcalf and his suite at Hotel St. Mark. The action of the committee was ratified. He also reported that the reception committee had added to its members President F. A. Leach Jr., M. J. Layman and I. H. Clay of the Chamber of Commerce, President Harry G. Williams, Wilber Walker and H. N. Gard of the Merchants' Exchange. He reported that Secretary Metcalf, according to a telegram received, would arrive in Oakland on May 1, leaving Washington on the 27th inst., and the entire fleet committee, together with the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Exchange, had been appointed a special committee to greet Mr. Metcalf upon his arrival at the Sixteenth street depot and escort him to his hotel.

At the Key Route

On the evening of May 2 (Saturday) a reception will be given to Mr. Metcalf at the Key Route Inn, beginning at 9 o'clock. The general public, particularly all friends and neighbors of the secretary of the navy, are invited to attend this reception. On the day of the arrival of the fleet, through the courtesy of the Key Route, the members of the official reception and entertainment committee will have a special ferry boat in which to go out to welcome the fleet. Outside of the committee members of the City Council, Board of Supervisors, trustees of Berkeley and Alameda will be invited by

SAN DIEGO SCENE OF REVELRY AND PLEASURE

Governor Gillett and Staff With All San Diego to Extend 'Glad Hand' This Afternoon---Details of Programme.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 15.—The second day of the stay of the American battleship fleet at this port is to be made notable by the landing of the largest force of marines and blue-jackets ever seen in a shore parade in any part of the United States. Five thousand men and officers are to be brought in from the ships, a distance of some two miles, or fifteen miles by way of harbor entrances, and at 2:30 p. m. will begin a march of a mile and a half from the water front to City Park where the set ceremonies of San Diego's official welcome to the fleet are to be held. The landing of this great force of men will entail a vast amount of work, as they are all to be sent away in small boats, towed by ship steam launches or by tugs furnished by the local reception committee.

First Landings at Noon

The details of the landing and the parade have occupied the attention of many officers during the last stages of the cruise and they were busy on some of the problems entailed until late last night. Final orders then were issued and promptly at noon today the first boats were cleared away from the port gangways. One company of marines and four companies of blue-jackets are furnished each ship, making a total landing force of eighty companies.

Are in Five Divisions

These companies are divided into five divisions—a marine division first, second, third and fourth ship divisions. The commanding officer of the parade is Captain Seaton Schroeder of the battleship Virginia, with Lieutenant-Commander Ridley McLean as adjutant. The marine brigade is commanded by Major Dion Williams, fleet marine officer on the Maine; the first division brigade by Captain Charles Vreeland; the second division brigade by Captain W. H. E. Sutherland, third, Captain Chas. W. Bartlett, and the fourth by Captain John M. Boyer. A band of seventy-

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY IS GIVEN SUPERVISORS

Bitter Fight Against Fruitvale Saloon

Residents in the neighborhood of Morgan and Meyer's saloon on East Fourteenth street in Fruitvale gave sensational testimony this morning before the Board of Supervisors, when the application of Morgan and Meyer for a saloon license was up for consideration. After testimony was taken from many of the protestants, the matter was continued until next Monday morning in the meantime County Clerk Cook, District Attorney Brown and Attorney Abe Leach, the last named representing a number of the protestants, will ascertain which of the many protestants are qualified. Despite the denial of H. D. Perry, who is representing a number of the protestants, the board decided that Morgan and Meyer had a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached to their application. W. K. Dolan and E. Hauser, whom Perry claimed owned no property, appeared before the board and offered deeds, showing that they were property owners and qualified to sign Morgan and Meyer's application.

H. O. Junker and E. J. Howard, two of the protestants, furnished the sensational testimony of the morning. They asserted that they had seen "drunken orgies" going on in the grounds about the saloon, that the night had been made hideous by the boisterous actions of the patrons of the place and that it is almost impossible to live in the neighborhood on account of the saloon.

E. L. Brown, C. B. Cox, T. Thompson, A. L. Frink and H. D. Perry also testified against the saloon.

While Junker was giving his testimony, Attorney John De Lancy, who represents Morgan and Meyer, asked if the witness was going to tell a history of his life.

"I will decide whether he will or not," said Chairman John Mitchell.

TOWNS FALL BEFORE FLOOD

Water Freed From Lake Hauser Sweeping All Before It—People Warned in Time to Escape.

HELENA, April 15.—Later developments in the bursting of the Lake Hauser dam near here yesterday indicate that the first reports were not exaggerated and it is now estimated that the financial loss will exceed $300,000. The immense lake covering twenty square miles in the valley below Helena had been completely drained at an early hour today.

Below Craig and as far as Ulm, the Great Northern tracks were under water. Because of the fact that telegraphic and telephone wires are washed out, no further details are obtainable at this time, but ample warning has been given all residents by riders and by wire, and it is not thought that there has been any loss of life.

Village Swept Away.

Great Falls is prepared for the oncoming waters. The entire village of Hauser Lake was swept away together with the belongings of the families of thirty employees. At Ox Bow, a third dam in process of construction was slightly damaged. A dozen cabins were wrecked. A number of houses in Craig and Cascade are reported to have been washed away.

A special from Wolf Creek states that the town of Craig has been wiped away by the flood, every structure in the place being carried away. Craig is situated about twenty miles from Wolf Creek and had a population of 75. Warning had been given the residents in time to reach the hills but all their belongings were carried away. It is estimated that there were from thirty to forty buildings in the place, including a half dozen stores, the Great Northern station and nearby farm buildings. Considerable livestock has been destroyed.

One Drowned.

Carl Ide was drowned at Great Falls today while working on the dam to resist the flood, two others being rescued. The flood is now seven miles from that city.

M. H. Gerry, general manager of the company, today received advices from New York that the dam would be rebuilt at once so soon as equipment can be secured. Already preliminary work is being done and construction of the third dam will continue as if the second had not been injured.

Battle With Flood.

BUTTE, Mont., April 15.—A special from Great Falls says that the flood waters from Hauser Lake have reached Ulm, thirty-four miles up the river, and are not expected to reach the Boston and Montana Smelter for several hours.

Superintendent Wheeler is making every preparation to take care of the flood waters and if the river does not rise more than eight feet, he believes there will be no loss of consequence at Great Falls.

STREET DEPARTMENT UNDER THE PROBE OF GRAND JURY

Several City Officials Examined Today

The Grand Jury convened this morning and further considered the charges of Harry Morse against the superintendent of streets, whom he charges with gross negligence in allowing the public utilities corporations to dig up the streets and not properly repair them. Deputy Superintendent of Streets W. W. Blair and George Flint and R. B. Hemmings, also connected with the street department of the city, appeared before the inquisitors and testified as to the condition of the streets where trenches had been dug.

Blair, who has charge of much of the outside work, declared that as far as he knew the trenches had been refilled in proper manner, and that whenever a corporation had been slow in complying with the law, efforts had always been made to see that the work was properly done.

The grand jury will hold a further consideration of the street matter next week and will summon several more witnesses whose names have not been given out.

GUMSHOE IS GETTING A LIVELY RUN

Citizens Who Want to Be Fair No Longer Fear Burns' Bluffs.

Nine Talesmen Out of Almost Every Ten Declare that Gen. Ford Is Innocent of Charge.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—"Gum-Shoe" Burns of the graft prosecution had a rest this morning for several hours from the arduous labors of twirling his moustach and pretending to be assisting Assistant District Attorney O'Gara in the selection of a jury for the purpose of trying Tiley L. Ford on the charge of alleged bribery of Supervisor Coleman. Ford has been twice practically found not guilty. The rest was occasioned by the order of Judge Lawlor yesterday continuing the case until 2 o'clock this afternoon in order to enable deputy sheriffs to summon forty talesmen with the hope of securing from among them a sufficient number of men to complete the jury in the case, all the names of talesmen in the small jury box of the court having been exhausted. When court assembled again this afternoon "Gum-Shoe" Burns was again at his post prosecuting.

At that time there were only five jurors in the box who had been sworn to try the case. There were there, however, four talesmen who had been passed by both sides and who were awaiting peremptory challenges.

Session This Afternoon

When the trial of Tiley L. Ford, for the alleged bribing of ex-Supervisor Coleman, was resumed this afternoon, the return of Sheriff Dolan in the matter of the summoning of talesmen was read. It showed that there had been personal service made upon thirteen men and of these only ten appeared.

Indirect service has been made in the case of twelve citizens and of these only eight answered. In the cases of fifteen others the talesmen could not be found because of defective addresses, death or other causes. The defendant occupied his usual place outside the bar, being attended by Patrick Calhoun and Attorneys A. A. Moore, Stanley Moore, W. M. Abbott and Lewis F. Hyington. The prosecution was represented by Assistant District Attorney O'Gara, beside whom sat Detective Burns.

O'Gara's New Witness

O'Gara stated that there was a witness for the prosecution present whose home was in San Mateo county. He did not think the witness would be needed until the second day after the giving of evidence commenced. He asked therefore that the witness be excused until Monday. The court granted the request. At the same moment a tall, thin young man who had been sitting on the left of

WILKINS REFUSES TO MEET EYE OF VERNIE CARMIN'S HUSBAND

Dead Woman's Spouse Too Ill to Testify

L. L. Carmin, wrecked in health by the death of his wife, Mrs. Vernie Carmin, took the stand this morning in the trial of Mark A. Wilkins in Superior Judge Melvin's court. As he was too weak to testify, it being feared that he is near death, the testimony he gave at the preliminary examination was read to the jury and only a few questions were asked him by both the prosecution and the defense.

After Carmin left the stand, he made the request that he might be excused from further attendance upon the stand, as he desires to return to his home in Springfield, Missouri. Carmin realizes that he is near death and states that he does not want to die in California, the scene of the tragic death of his wife and the place where her memory is being disgraced by the testimony which is being introduced in a public court, but would rather pass away in his home city, where the memories of his wife are all pleasant ones. Carmin will probably be kept here for a few days more, however.

May Not Be Mrs. Carmin.

The question has now arisen in the mind of Attorney Hugh McIsaac, counsel for Wilkins, as to whether Mrs. Vernie Carmin was the woman with whom Wilkins was living and whom it is alleged he murdered. Carmin testified that the body which was found buried in the rear of Wilkins' home was that of his wife, McIsaac, however, showed a picture of Carmin's wife to Wilkins, and the defendant stated that it did not look like the woman with whom he had been living. McIsaac is now endeavoring to find a picture of the woman with whom Wilkins was living.

Both Avert Eyes.

While Carmin was on the stand this morning, neither he nor Wilkins would look at each other. Both averted their eyes whenever they thought that they might see each other. Carmin testified, in addition to the testimony that he had given at the preliminary examination, that he had given Mrs. Carmin $100 and four diamonds in 1906 and believed that she had these in her possession when she deserted him.

The prosecution is endeavoring to prove that Wilkins murdered Mrs. Carmin for the purpose of robbery. Dr. O. D. Hamlin testified this morning and declared that Mrs. Carmin had died from strychnine poisoning.

HARD TO SECURE JURORS TO TRY TIREY L. FORD

O'Garra, rose hastily and left the court room. It was his first appearance in the case. Reporters followed him to the corridor to learn his name, but the witness shot down the stairs as if pursued by fury and disappeared.

The first talesman of the new list examined was Henry J. A. Mau, a construction of 559 Guerrero street. Believe in Innocence.

The exhaustion of the list of talesmen occasioned, largely, by the fact that many of the men had opinions in the case and, in the greater number of instances, those opinions were favorable to the defendant, and the men entertaining them were accordingly excused for bias.

One of the talesmen who so expressed himself was Charles G. Mayer of 1637 Fifteenth avenue, who, in no uncertain manner, proclaimed his firm belief in the innocence of General Ford. His answers were made to questions propounded by Assistant District Attorney O'Garra, his last statement being as follows:

"I am satisfied of the innocence of Mr. Ford. I have been of that opinion for many months. I could not sit in trial of Mr. Ford and change my opinion in this matter."

Mayer was excused for bias, the defense making no attempt to retain him.

H. T. Smith, now a resident of this city, but formerly a school director in Oakland, was submitted a very lengthy examination by O'Garra, the inquiry in the afternoon being a continuance of that in the morning.

"During the last trial of Tirey L. Ford your office was when it is now with respect to the office of the defendant?" asked O'Garra.

"Yes."

"The defendant had to pass by your office from time to time?"

"I never saw Ford but once during that time, and then he was at a distance on the other side of the street."

"You have known Tirey L. Ford a number of years?"

"I have not come in contact with him in eight years."

"You know him well enough to go up to him and shake him by the hand?"

"Most of the time when we would meet all I would say would be 'How do you do?'"

Supervisors Got Money.

"You said some time ago that the supervisors got money from other sources? What was the source?"

"Mainly the telephone companies."

A number of questions were asked for the purpose of trying to show whether or not Smith believed the supervisors had been paid money, but only the same answer, namely that the talesman had no idea in the matter what was received.

"Did you not, in this courtroom, since you have been summoned here as a talesman, repeatedly go up to the defendant, Ford, and shake him by the hand and speak to him?"

"I did not. I shook hands with Ford only once, and that was on the day that I was going out of the court room. We happened to meet in the crowd at the door and I bid him 'good day' and shook hands with him. There was nothing more said by me. Mr. Ford simply replied to my salutation."

Stanley Moore expected that the same questions were being asked over and over again.

"This man," said A. A. Moore, referring to Smith, "has been questioned for more than an hour. We have been stopped four times in our examination of talesmen and the district attorney has consumed more time on this talesman than we have occupied on any two men."

O'Garra said he had a right to question the talesman because the State had only five peremptory challenges and four of them had been exhausted. It came with bad grace from the defense, he said, to make the objection.

Then A. A. Moore raised his voice so that it rang throughout the court, saying:

"We will withdraw the objection and allow the district attorney to examine as long as he wants to."

O'Garra asked only a few more questions and passed Smith.

A few questions only were asked by Stanley Moore and then Smith was passed, subject to peremptory challenge.

Peremptory Challenges.

An impression prevails that the last peremptory challenge of the prosecution will be exercised on Smith, four having already been exhausted.

The defense has still seven peremptories to its credit.

In quick succession, the following were excused for bias: Edward Penabaz, Charles Laymeister, Phillip Jordan, Thomas J. Currie, T. Elkington and George Shorten.

The last mentioned was another of the men who believed in the innocence of Gen. Ford. In response to some of O'Garra's questions, this talesman said:

"I believe that bribery has passed to the Supervisors. It was passed by some person, but I don't think Mr. Ford did it."

"You have no impression now that Ford is guilty?" continued O'Garra.

"No," was the reply.

Chas. B. Havana, who had been passed by both sides yesterday morning, complained of sickness and was discharged from both the jury and the panel by Judge Lawlor.

ESTUARY DREDGING BIDS THOUGHT TO BE TOO HIGH

Mayor Mott Believes City Can Do Work More Economically; Will Take the Matter Up With City Engineer.

Owing to the fact that bids presented for the construction of a restraining wall and the dredging of the estuary between Eighth and Twelfth streets were considered excessive by the Board of Works, which met this morning, work on the proposed improvement of the lands there for park purposes has been indefinitely postponed. City Engineer Turner and Mayor Mott are to hold a conference in the near future to determine what to do in the premises in the hopes of getting an early start on the work, which is considered the most important proposed in the entire park improvement project.

Declares City Can Do Work.

According to City Engineer Turner, some plan can be devised whereby the work can be done by the city much cheaper than the contractors figure. It is proposed to build a massive stone wall in the estuary, dredge the estuary from the Eighth street bridge to Lake Merritt and fill in all the lands in that section which is to be converted into the most attractive spot in the entire city.

The sum of $15,000 has been appropriated for the work. According to the bidders, the work will cost at least $30,000. For this reason all the bids were rejected and whatever is to be done is to be determined at the conference to be held between Mayor Mott and City Engineer Turner. The bids which were rejected were as follows:

Bids Received.

P. H. Hoare, for the construction of the rock wall, $1.60 per cubic yard; for dredging the channel, 80 cents per cubic yard. Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company, rock wall, $1.55 per cubic yard; dredging, $1.35 per cubic yard. Piedmont Paving Company, rock wall, $1.49 per cubic foot; dredging, $1.35 per cubic yard.

According to City Engineer Turner, the work should be done for at least one-half of the figures presented, at least so far as the construction of the wall is concerned. The figure of 80 cents per cubic foot for dredging is considered reasonable.

CITY IN DANGER OF BURNING DOWN

Councilman Everhart Tells Merchants Rat Extermination Is Not Most Important.

Councilman Harold Everhart told the members of the Merchants' Exchange today that Oakland needed an improved fire department more than a lot of rat catchers. The occasion was a luncheon at the Hotel Metropole in honor of the city father and Assistant City Attorney William H. O'Brien.

"Enough money has been spent by this city on rat extermination in the last few months to build three new engine houses. And the alarming feature of this fact is that we are in great danger of seeing our city burned up on any windy day."

Everhart told the merchants that there were many improvements needed by the city, but none of more importance than the contemplated consolidation into a city and county government. "We have many things to do," he said, "but can't hope to accomplish much until we lay aside our individual desires and all put our shoulders to the wheel for the great common good."

"Warts" on City.

Colonel O'Brien of the city attorney's office spoke on forming a city and county government on this side of the bay, much to the delight of J. Jones, the father of consolidation. He said that Councilman Baccus was to be known as the father-in-law of consolidation and then went on to discuss the benefits to be derived from joining hands with our smaller surrounding cities.

In speaking of city improvements, he said, "I do not like that addition to our city hall known as the 'wart,' and I hope to see it, together with other city 'warts' growing soon removed by the surgeon's knife. The people of Oakland now want a beautiful city and there is no reason why we should not soon have a very pretty town here."

To Build Tramway.

Nash B. Greenfield, president of the Harbor League, expressed his approval of the plans to improve the estuary before doing other work. He wants to cut through Fifth and Ninth avenues and eventually to build a transit line. Seventh street. This work will develop the city's harbor industry and will bring in many factories. He said, "If San Francisco develops its creek before Oakland develops the estuary the factories will establish themselves across the bay. This, of course, will work to our disadvantage."

J. J. White of the Ornamental Iron and Steel Company said: "Test records and other things are good, but in speaking of city improvements, he said, 'I do not like that addition to our city hall known as the 'wart,' and I hope to see it, together with other city 'warts' growing soon removed by the surgeon's knife. The people of Oakland now want a beautiful city and there is no reason why we should not soon have a very pretty town here.'"

FOUR JURORS NOW FOR CURTIN TRIAL

Panel of Veniremen is Exhausted—Court Adjourns for Day.

A panel of 51 veniremen having been exhausted with only four jurors accepted, it was necessary this morning for Superior Judge Elsworth to call a special venire of 47 men in the trial of Robert Curtin, who is accused of the murder of John Tins. The trial was continued until tomorrow afternoon at 10 o'clock.

Assistant District Attorney Hynes requested this morning that the four jurors who had been accepted, Robert Bonham, John Estes, Charles Jacob and Henry Glynn, be excused until next Monday, when it is thought the taking of testimony will commence. Attorney Lin Church, counsel for Curtin, concurred with the request, but it was not granted by Judge Elsworth, who said such action would be contrary to law.

TALKS ON TEETH

By the REX DENTAL CO.

TEETH WITHOUT PLATES

It seems a wonderful and impossible thing, the average "plate" wearer that we can put teeth in the mouth and make them stay there firmly without the use of a plate.

Almost the first question put to us by a plate victim is "How can you do it?" and what holds them in place?" The Rex Alveolar method of putting teeth in is our secret. The fact that we do the work successfully and that it is both beautiful as well as successful is proof the secret is valuable.

Given two or more teeth in either jaw, tight or loose ones (we make them loose ones tight and healthy), we put in a beautiful set of teeth, each tooth set independently of its neighbors, the whole forming a piece of work that cannot be told from the best that nature can do.

The question usually follows: "Will they last?"

San Francisco, Cal., April 9, 1908. Rex Dental Co., Pacific Building, City.

Gentlemen: I wish to write to you to show my appreciation of the work you have done for me. I had been for a number of years suffering from loose teeth, and had lost my back teeth, making impossible for me to masticate my food.

I consulted several dentists but they all told me the same old thing, "No can do help but a plate." I came to you and the work performed by you was more than satisfactory. In fact I had not had one particle of trouble since you treated my case, and put in your Rex Alveolar method, which is something I never had done before.

The standard of your office is high, and during my treatment your attention, thoughtfulness and courteous treatment of me was all that any one could wish for. Very truly yours,

JAS. A. MCCORMICK.

345 Haight street, city.

We can show hundreds of cases that have been in upward of two years and are as firm and healthy as the teeth they had when the work was finished. They will outlast those who are wearing plates.

Will you come in and let us look your teeth over? The consultation and examination are free.

No obligation goes with it to have any work done unless you wish to employ our services.

OAKLAND PLANS BIG WELCOME TO FLEET

SCENES AT SAN DIEGO TODAY
FLAGSHIP CONNECTICUT, ADMIRAL THOMAS.

The Oakland committee to accompany them.

The Posters

Chairman Stearns of the press and publicity committee announced that the posters had arrived and were ready for distribution. These posters will be placed in every Southern Pacific and Santa Fe depot on the Western Division, and in many of the hotels on the Pacific coast. Owing to the demand from business houses for large numbers of these posters the executive committee voted that same should be sold in lots of 100 at a very low figure. These posters will be mailed, also, to every postmaster in California.

Mr. Jonas of the finance committee, in the absence of Chairman Gier, reported that the outlook for securing a fund, such as the committee had felt would be that portion of the entertainment should be in the hands of parties connected with the schools and not with the citizens' committee.

The parade committee will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock and at 1 o'clock the decoration committee and at 4:30 the committee on entertainment of officers.

SAN DIEGO'S WELCOME

two players, furnished by the ships, will accompany each of the five divisions.

Formal Welcoming Ceremonies

The ceremonies at City Park, which will be held late this afternoon, include formal addresses of welcome by Governor Gillett and Mayor Forward. Admiral Thomas will reply briefly to each of these, and will accept from the local committee in custody for Rear Admiral Evans, a golden key to the city; Admirals Thomas, Sperry and Emery will be decorated with golden medals commemorating their visit. A medal also has been prepared for Captain Royal E. Ingersoll, who was chief of staff to Admiral Evans, and it will be received for him by Lieutenant Chandler of the Connecticut.

Fleet to Be Illuminated

Tonight there will be another illumination of the fleet and a ball in honor of the naval officers at the Hotel Del Coronado. The officers do not attempt to disguise the fact that they are extremely glad to be back among "home folks" once more, and they are looking forward to all of the festivities along the Pacific coast with the keenest relish. The dancing tonight and again on Friday night appeals very strongly to the younger officers.

Governor Gillett and his staff leave here Friday at 2:05 p. m. for Long Beach, where they will stop at the Hotel Virginia until next Monday. They will then move to the Alexandria in Los Angeles for the remainder of fleet week in this city.

SAN DIEGO, April 15.—San Diego today officially welcomed the battleship fleet, and interest for the time being was transferred from the sea to the shore, where a brigade of 5000 men participated in the parade from the water front to the city park. The force landed from the 18 ships was the largest ever sent ashore for parade purposes by any American fleet.

Was an Ideal Day

The day was brilliant with sunshine, the streets of the city were lined with spectators and arched with vari-colored bunting, and taken altogether, the shore display had many picturesque features to rival the marine spectacle of yesterday.

Land in Small Boats

The marines and bluejackets from the fleet were landed in small boats which were towed in from the anchorage grounds by tugs and little steam launches. The boats were divided into divisions, divisions and fleets, and their maneuvers were watched from the beaches and from the wharves along the bay with wondering interest by throngs of sightseers.

The handling of the large force entailed much detail and intricate seamanship, and the scenes about the landing boats were unique in the history of the city.

Before 11 o'clock many of the sailors and marines had embarked in the towing boats and the journey to the city by way of Point Loma entrance to the bay was a matter of two hours or more.

Quite a choppy sea had been kicked up by a stiff breeze from the west and the gigs, cutters and launches were hauled with extreme caution.

Guard of Honor

It was well after 2:30, the appointed hour for the parade to start, before the brigade began its march. An escort of honor, composed of local citizens, headed the column and next in line came a battalion of coast artillery from Fort Rosecrans, the army post of San Diego. The marines and bluejackets followed the column in the rear. The parade was a magnificent sight, and the city was filled with spectators.

Line of March Two Miles

When it was realized that this was but one-third of the force aboard the battleships, those who looked on began to appreciate the strength of the fleet lying outside in the harbor. The parade was a magnificent sight, and the city was filled with spectators.

Officials in Autos

Officers of the fleet who were not included in the march from the brigade and other officials were taken to the city park in gaily decorated automobiles. In the first of these was Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas, Governor J. N. Gillett, U. S. Grant Jr. (chairman of the local reception committee), and John D. Sperry (chairman of the city committee). They were followed in other automobiles accompanied by members of the local committee. The ceremonies at the park were quite late in starting. They included a formal address of welcome by Governor Gillett and Mayor Forward, with responses by Admiral Thomas. The golden key to the city was presented to Admiral Thomas in the trust for Rear Admiral Evans.

Admiral Evans Stronger

PASO ROBLES HOT SPRINGS, Cal., April 15.—Rear Admiral Evans' gradual improvement continues steadily. While still very weak his digestion, said Surgeon P. E. McDonald this morning, has improved so much that he is eating more heartily and is slowly gaining strength. He was taken to the Kurhaus this morning for a sulphur bath and massage treatment. This afternoon he will be given a little outing in his wheel chair for the first time in a week.

"HANDS OFF" TO TAMMANY

McCarren of Brooklyn Flays His Opponents in Tammany Hall on Seating of Delegates.

NEW YORK, April 15.—At 1:35 p. m. temporary Chairman Carmody called the Democratic State Convention led by Chairman W. J. Conners delegates in their seats.

Chairman Carmody stated that owing to the failure of the committee on contested seats to finish the business on hand the convention would stand adjourned until 3:30 p. m.

A bitter contest between State Senator Patrick McCarren and the faction led by Chairman W. J. Conners and Charles F. Murphy over the seating of the McCarren delegates from Kings county, delayed the opening of today's session of the Democratic State Convention.

The fight was in the credentials committee and its finish was expected in time to allow the convention to meet again about 4 p. m. Meantime the Conners-Murphy faction used upon the names of Allen B. Parker, Charles F. Murphy, Lewis Nixon, and Charles Froeb, president of the Arlan society, as delegates at large to the National Convention. It was announced that Nathan Strawn would be one of the presidential electors.

Delivers Ultimatum

After an all night battle before the committee on credentials, Senator Patrick H. McCarren of Kings county, delivered an ultimatum to Tammany Hall that that organization keep its hands off the Kings county Democratic

It was toward the close of the long and exciting battle before the committee on credentials that the Kings county leader took the floor in answer to charges of fraud and corruption that had been made against him by the opposition of the Fourteenth assembly district of Kings county.

McCarren denied absolutely that anything unfair had been done in Kings county.

Will Not Stand Bidding

"No man is more loyal to the Democracy of this State than I am," said McCarren, "but I say that the organization I represent will not stand to be dictated to by any agents of men, to its destruction. When I left the Buffalo convention I received notice upon the candidate at the head of the ticket that if he would support the ticket in Kings county he could have, and gladly, the support of the undivided organization. But I made it plain he was to adhere strictly to this. When he put candidates in the field against the regular Democratic candidates for office in Kings county, I withdrew my support quickly and finally (for him)."

"I made it plain that neither I nor my organization would stand to be knifed in the back by the head of the ticket. We supported every candidate on the ticket except the candidate for Governor. If any man believes (regardless of me or my opinions) that organization of Kings county will stand for this treatment, that man doesn't know this organization."

The McCarren men at this point interrupted the proceedings for several minutes with their cheering.

Cohalan Replies.

"In the face of the figures read to this committee which have not been disputed," said Mr. Cohalan in reply, "it seems to me there is something wrong in Kings county. When the enrolled vote among the Democrats drops from 120,000 to something over 90,000, it seems to me there is something radically wrong in the leadership, organization and machinery of the Kings county Democracy."

"Here stands a man who gleefully says that the man who should now be elected Governor of the State is prevented from being elected by his interference. I make use of this as a sample of the Democracy we find ourselves face to face with at the eve of a struggle of national importance."

Wants Exact Status.

"It is due this committee to know the exact status of affairs in Kings county," Cohalan said. "I ought to have before us an explanation Senator McCarren cares to make concerning the condition of the party of which he is the leader. This is a time when a united Democracy throughout the country should do the work of seeking the election to office of every Democratic candidate from President down and here we are face to face with conditions which beggar explanation."

The whole question was left unsettled when the committee adjourned.

UNDECIDED AS TO MARTIN CASE

Some Other Action Necessary If Indictment is Set Aside.

District Attorney Brown declared this morning that he did not know what action would be taken Saturday in the event that the indictment against McCarren was set aside by Superior Judge W. S. Wells. As was stated in these columns yesterday, in all probability the indictment will be set aside and some other action will have to be taken.

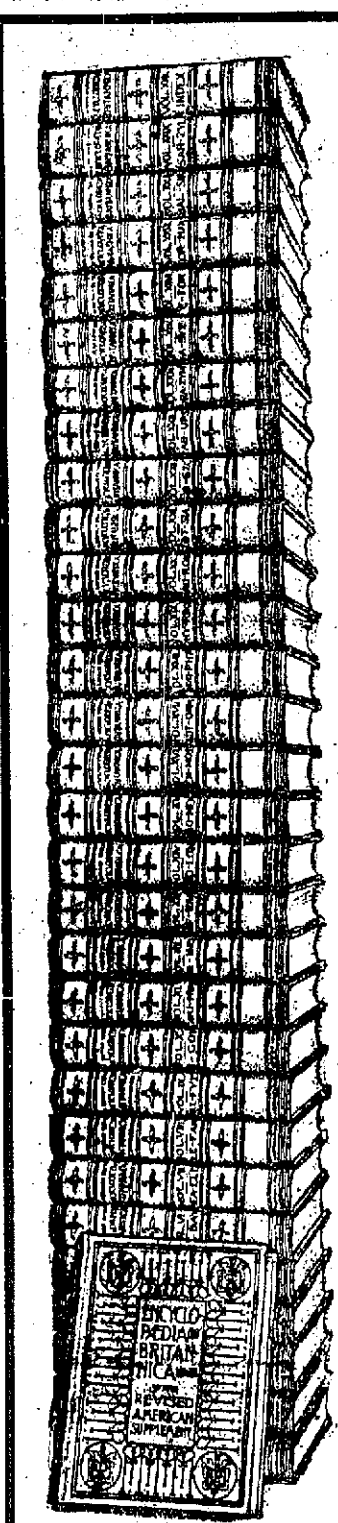

Brown has been considering whether to proceed upon information or have Judge Ogden swear to a complaint against McCarren. He is now attempting to blow up his house by the event that Judge Ogden does so.

A preliminary examination will be held in the police court and the entire case practically started from the beginning.

GOVERNOR REFUSES EXTRADITION PAPERS

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Although the Chicago police have sent Detective Sergeant William Swelgart to this city with a warrant for the arrest of Paul G. Bender, a structural iron worker on a charge of failing to support a minor child, the officer will return to the windy city without his prisoner, as Governor Gillett has refused to sign extradition papers.

Bender was released this morning and Detective Swelgart will leave for the East tonight empty-handed.

JAILED ON FELONY EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

Trusted Bookkeeper for Kohler & Chase Accused of $1000 Peculations.

Sparrow Purdy, a bookkeeper in the employ of the Kohler & Chase Music Company, was arrested at his home, 125 Regent street, Alameda, last night by Detective Hodgkins and charged at the city prison with felony embezzlement. Purdy is accused of having withheld sums of money totaling $1000, his alleged peculations having covered a number of months.

Purdy was arrested on a warrant issued on complaint of the heads of the Oakland stores and will appear in the Oakland police court for preliminary examination. It is said that the parents of the accused have made good amounts alleged to have been embezzled.

Purdy was a trusted employee of the company. Suspicion as to any illegal transactions did not arise until recently when the accounts in the store were checked and found wanting. All evidence in the case will be presented in the police court when the accused is called for trial on his preliminary hearing.

JUDGE DECIDES AGAINST PENCIL-WRITTEN BALLOTS

Election Contest Results in Ruling Favoring Board Member.

The contest brought by Andrew I. Crane against election of W. F. Floyd as a member of the Melrose sanitary board, was decided in favor of Floyd by Superior Judge Harris this morning. According to the decision of the court, Floyd received 88 votes and Crane 84. Crane claimed that the election boards had favored Floyd and had counted votes in his favor which should not have been counted. The contested ballots were gone over by Judge Harris, who ruled out those that had been marked with pencils.

Worthy instruments returned from rent, traded in and new pianos in discontinued styles.

Priced Unusually Low

We have never gathered together a nicer lot of slightly used instruments, returned from rent, and splendid high grade second hand pianos traded in as part payment for the famous Apollo Player Piano.

Some of these are merely shop worn, the "glistening newness" is gone, perhaps, and we could hardly expect customers to pay regular prices for them, but you will admit the reduction pays you well for the absence of the mere "glistening newness."

We do not call this a SPECIAL SALE, the pianos could be marked no cheaper, they could not be better "buys" for the purchaser should we fill this page with exaggerated and sensational statements.

Pianos which sell new for $475, $450, $430, $400, $390, $350, $300 and $250 are now marked to sell quickly at

SAY THOMAS FLYER IS WINNER

Expect American and German Cars to Start Even With French and Italian in Siberia.

VALDEZ, Alaska, April 15 (by cable, via Seattle).—The Thomas Flyer, American car in the international New York-to-Paris auto race, is already winner of the Paris Martin cup, as it has gone furthest over the original route and actually has run under its own power in Alaska.

The Thomas Flyer, which arrived here April 7, found the road north to Fairbanks absolutely impassable. The Copper River country is covered with three feet of snow. The terrible storms that are raging in the wilderness along the Yukon and Tanana rivers, where the car's route lay, precluded all possibility of any auto being able to fight its way through to Nome. Had the Americans attempted the trip they would undoubtedly have been caught in the snow and probably would have been frozen to death before the arrival of relief parties, as even the dogs, which are Alaska huskies and used to the cold, could not break the drifts with a sled.

The American car has been shipped back to Seattle, and from there will be sent direct to Vladivostok, thence taking the Siberian road, or possibly the Manchurian, to St. Petersburg.

Holds Ten Days' Lead.

New York.—The departure of the French and Italian cars for Japan en route to Vladivostok does not effect the lead which the Thomas car had gained in the New York-to-Paris race. As the car which went furthest over the original route and which actually did run under its own power in Alaska, the Thomas car is already the winner of the Martin cup.

But in all probability the committee will take into account the circumstances and award the cup on the basis of equity rather than mere fact. The possibility of going furthest on the route, especially as the "furthest" consisted of a trifle over 200 yards.

The route has not been changed in any way by the Paris-Matrukov race. The New York Times, but the contestants themselves have elected to go by way of Vladivostok, with the tacit consent, apparently, of the promoters of the race.

When the award of the cup is made, undoubtedly the Thomas car will be allowed the advantage of time it gained in the crossing of the United States.

The American car has been in San Francisco more than ten days ahead of its closest competitor, the Italian car. Therefore, the Thomas Flyer will be allowed to count in the race. The French car De Dion did not violate the rules as far as the United States is concerned. The French car, which was shipped to San Francisco by express, this kind of business resulting in God-forsaken delay, being disqualified, and he was ordered out of the race for good by a telegraphic message sent from the owners in Paris.

Germans Disheartened.

BAKER CITY, Ore.—The German car Protos, in the New York-to-Paris automobile race, passed through this city this afternoon on an O. E. and N. train bound for Portland, and from there will be shipped by rail to Seattle. The shipping by steamer direct to Vladivostok.

The car was loaded at Pocatello, near which place it broke down.

The German car has had even worse luck than the French car. De Dion, Nevada, 240 miles west of Ogden, Utah, three weeks ago, but there its cylinders were smashed badly in a collision, and the Germans sent them on to San Francisco for repairs. The Golden Gate city being the only place in the west with facilities for handling this style of cylinder.

Bureau Germans got a telegram from San Francisco, where the cylinder arrived there, stating that it would be impossible to get them in shape inside of two weeks.

The Germans have had so much trouble, suffered so many hardships, and have had so many delays, that they are completely discouraged. They put up a game fight, but this last long breakdown proved too much, and they are heart-broken.

The Protos car will ship to Vladivostok on the steamer Glen Logan, sailing on Saturday night. The Germans are shipping their car from Ogden to Seattle, to make this boat, and will go on to

ACROSS THE FOOTLIGHTS

HAM TREE IS TO PLAY HERE

Chicago Symphony Orchestra Will Open at the Macdonough Saturday.

In all its history, the New York Theatre has held such large audiences as gathered there during the long runs of McIntyre and Heath in Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Ham Tree," by long odds the most humorous entertainment on earth. People laugh till they are exhausted and are glad indeed when the end of an act gives them a respite from mirthful convulsions. McIntyre and Heath play minstrels in the first act, stranded minstrels in the second, and an Indian rajah and "niece" in the third.

Their conversation in the second act would, as Josh Billings used to express it, "make a horse laugh." McIntyre is the drollest one, while Mr. Heath is the hopeful-seeming hams growling, rivers of beer, swarms of Schweitzer and flocks of sausage flying through the air. This scene between these two veteran comedians is admittedly the most humorous ever presented by any two performers. McIntyre and Heath in "The Ham Tree" will be the attraction at the Macdonough, April 20, 21, and 22.

Symphony Concert.

Announcement is made that the Chicago Symphony Orchestra will appear for two concerts on Saturday, April 18, at the Macdonough Theatre. These are the local music lovers who remember the great series of concerts given by this organization during the seasons of 1903 and 1907 will note with a certain interest the above statement. Certainly, the orchestra is the best of the many good musical events that have taken place in Oakland this season, and judging from the interest its coming has aroused in the local musical colony as well as among society in general, its concerts here will eclipse all previous ones.

The personnel of the orchestra is practically the same as when it was founded under the direction of Alexander von Peltz, except that it has been enlarged from fifty to sixty-five artists and has in addition eight soloists. Adolph Eosenbecker, who is again the conductor of the orchestra, is one of the most accomplished and able men in this line and his direction of the orchestra is well remembered here. Among the soloists with the organization this year, who will be heard by local audiences, are Genevieve Clark Wilgen of New York, the great oratorio soprano, Arthur Middleton of New York, the famous basso; John Miller of Chicago, tenor, and Rose Lueddiger Gannon of Boston, the alto. Francis Wagner, the great cellist, and Jean Van Oort, the great Dutch violinist, who, as soloist and concertmeister, created a sensation on his previous tour with the orchestra, are again with the organization.

SAN FRANCISCO BREVITIES

Hurt by Street Car.—An unidentified man was struck by a street car at Twenty-sixth and Valencia streets Monday night and is now at St. Luke's Hospital being treated for a fractured skull, from which he will likely die. An old man, who was found in the injured man's car, was taken to St. S. O'Neill, 3829 Sixteenth street.

Policeman Missing.—That address was unable to find anyone who had known a person of that name.

Missionary Granted Yesterday.—Police Commissioner granted yesterday Charles Cody, a detective sergeant, a two-day leave of absence to visit his mother in San Francisco.

Mrs. McElwaine Convicted.—Mrs. Annie McElwaine was convicted by Police Judge Shortall yesterday on two charges of larceny and will appear for sentence next Tuesday. Mrs. McElwaine attacked Mrs. Mary E. Mager and her friend, Mrs. Josephine McGee, outside the Grant building on April 7.

MISS JEANNE TOWLES IN "THE HAM TREE"

'THE TENDERFOOT' AMUSES HEARERS

New Barytone, Charles Arling, and Soubrette, Miss Charlotte Towle, Make Good.

The second performance of "The Tenderfoot" at Jora Park last night smoothed out all the rough spots that were inevitable at the opening evening, and the result was a delightful presentation of this musical play of the West. The settings of the show, the singing of the principals and chorus and the fun making of the comedians carried the house by storm.

The new barytone, Charles Arling, and the new soubrette, Miss Charlotte Towle, made good. Arling sang in a strong, rich voice and Miss Towle played very attractive and winsome.

Little Viva McNeil, who plays the part of Patsy with charm and sweetness, won great deal of the part of the Chinese cook. Miss Sybil Page is seen again in the prima donna role.

The heavy part of the comedy work fell to Ferris Hartman. The title character, who appears to be an eccentric professor from Boston in the midst of a lot of cowboys, Texas rangers and other frontier characters, is an amusing role he was ever written. Hartman and his pal Rupert, the donkey, kept the audience convulsed with laughter.

HOW IS YOUR STOMACH?

Easy Way to Strengthen It and Get Well.

A good digestive system, one that acts so that you do not know that you have a stomach, is God's birthright to every man to every woman.

If digestion is weak, if food turns into gas, if you suffer after eating, if you are sleepless, nervous and out of sorts—then the stomach is diseased and prompt action should be taken.

Dr. J. C. Ennis, a well-known builder in Syracuse, tells an easy way to strengthen the stomach and get well when he writes: "Mellin's Food Tablets, have done more for me in one week than all the doctors in two years. I was under their care. Thanks to Mellin's, I can work once more, the first time in over a year."

It is an easy thing to strengthen the stomach and cure indigestion by using Mellin's Food Tablets. Get a box from leading druggists with their guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy does all that is claimed for it.

DENOUNCES U.S. NAVAL POLICY

Cruise to Pacific Disgusting Spectacle, Declares Congressman Tawney, Opposing Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—During the consideration of the naval appropriation bill in the House of Representatives today, Chairman Tawney, of the committee on appropriations, in moving to reduce the number of battleships from two to one, again pointed out the danger in which the treasury is being placed by the immense increases in appropriations authorized in the several supplementary measures.

Tawney's remarks were made particularly applicable to the administration's demand for four battleships instead of two. He compared the appropriation in various countries in preparation for war, and on account of wars, and said the startling fact was developed that the United States is expending more than any other nation in the world.

"We are, this year," he said, "expending $24,975,238 more than England, $136,067,838 more than Germany, and $153,863,938 more than France."

Much Money, Few Men.

Continuing the comparison, Tawney declared further that "on account of preparation for war, the United States, with an army of 52,000 men and a navy of 42,000 men, is expending this year only $86,473,701 less than England, with an army of 204,300 men and a navy of 122,000 men.

"The United States is expending for this purpose only $25,884,881 less than Germany, with her army of 600,000 and her navy of 62,000.

"The United States is expending for this purpose $2,663,332 in excess of the amount expended by France, with her army of 204,300 men and a navy of 122,000 men.

After citing statistics of similar character, Tawney said: "We surrender that self reliance, that consciousness of superior individual strength as a nation, by trying to teach the people of the United States to rely upon a standing army and navy in time of peace large enough to be capable to successfully compete with the armies and navies of the world in time of war."

He then declared the creation of war, Tawney said: "If there is any reason to apprehend war with any foreign power within the next decade, the information upon which that apprehension is based has been carefully withheld from the people. The geographic isolation of the United States is an asset far more valuable as a means of defense than all the navies we could build if we did not possess this advantage."

The United States, in the past, has pursued a hanging naval policy. The journey of the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific was made possible only through the aid of twenty-eight vessels flying a foreign flag.

"A more disgusting spectacle was never witnessed, and I condemn the naval policy which overlooked auxiliary vessels to supply the fleet with means absolutely essential to its existence."

"It may be that this great mistake is due to the fact that a collier, which is as essential to the efficiency of the navy as a battleship, is not so attractive, does not involve the expenditure of so much money, and does not afford the opportunity for the same pyrotechnic display upon the ocean or at the summer resorts along the coast."

"For that reason, we have made the mistake of building a navy that is inferior to the navy of any other nation in order to make its voyage from one ocean to another, is obliged to rely upon 28 vessels belonging to other nations."

Blames "Personal Ambition."

"I maintain that navies are built for national defense. They are not intended and can not be justified upon the ground that they are necessary to satisfy a ambition, either individual or national, to compete with other nations, in time of peace, in size and number of fighting machines. The prestige of power of this nation does not depend upon the size of its army and navy."

"There is no policy of our government, either foreign or domestic, that is so essential to the safety of our nation as the size of either the army or navy is not essential. The country has eighty millions of patriotic people, and it is in these that the strength of our nation exists, and not in our standing army or our permanent naval establishment."

Decries Militarism.

"The strength of our policies and the ability of our government to enforce them will always be measured by ourselves, and by foreign nations, not by the size of our army, but by the resources, the patriotism and the loyalty of the people of the United States, who, at all times, are known to be ready and willing to sacrifice their property, and even their lives in the defense of their government and its beneficial institutions."

"The people therefore, should not be encouraged to surrender, that self reliance and consciousness of superior individual strength as a nation by relying in time of peace upon an immense navy and a great army."

SCORN FOUL PLAY IDEA IN DEATH OF TRACK PLUNGER

Police Think S. Gilmore Died Naturally

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—The police disclaim all knowledge of anything criminal connected with the death of Samuel Gilmore, formerly a well known track plunger, who died early Tuesday morning at his residence, 188 Thirtieth street, the day after he had made a considerable winning at the Emeryville track.

According to the diagnosis of Dr. Beasley of the Central Emergency Hospital, and the autopsy performed by Surgeon Clark at the morgue, Gilmore died of cirrhosis of the liver, supposed to have been brought on by excessive drinking. Merely as a precautionary measure his stomach was sent to the city chemist for analysis, and a return has not yet been made.

Acting Captain of Detectives Ryan said this morning the first he knew of the affair was when he read it in a today's paper. He said he does not believe that there was any foul play connected with Gilmore's death, as he has known him for twenty years and during all that time expected him and at any moment as the result of too much intoxicating liquor.

Detectives Regan and O'Connell of the southern station and Gallagher and Molloy of the Mission station say they have never investigated the case and know nothing about it. Gilmore's brother, John, is a well known horse trainer of this city, and has always been known as a sober and industrious man. He does not believe that there is any mystery connected with Samuel's death.

READS HE'S CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT; DROPS DEAD

Gets Fatal News While Eating Breakfast

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—Confronted with the accusation of embezzlement more than $120,000 from the Franklin Institute of this city, of which he had been a secretary and treasurer for 22 years, Herbert E. Heyl was seized with what is said to have been apoplexy today and died shortly afterward. Heyl was at breakfast when glancing through a morning newspaper, he saw an account of the alleged embezzlement and issuance of a warrant for his arrest. He arose, ran into the hallway and collapsed. He did not respond to treatment and the physician called reported the case to the coroner for a post mortem examination. Heyl recently retired from the institution because of illness.

GOLD LURES, NOT CHURCH, HE SAYS

Preachers Look to Money Rather Than Lord's Work, Is Charge.

KANSAS CITY, April 15.—Discussion upon the resolution for better support of the clergy was resumed today at the general conference at Independence of the Re-organized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. F. S. Ebbeling, a delegate of Wheeling, West Virginia, created a sensation by declaring that "some men would not risk themselves to do the Lord's work unless they had their hands down deep in the bishop's pocket."

The bishop is the financial head of the church.

IN THE STATE

Mystery Vells Suicide.—Fresno.—The deepest mystery surrounds the tragic death of Lizzie Marie, eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton, who last evening ended her life by swallowing two ounces of laudanum. The woman was on a large ranch near Exeter, and a wealthy and prominent family of the San Joaquin valley. There was no more popular girl in the community than Miss Hamilton, and while she had numerous love affairs, none can trace any way be connected with her tragic death.

CONGRESS AGAINST BIG NAVY

In Spite of Roosevelt's Request for Four Battleships, but Two Will Be Allowed by Lawmakers.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—In spite of the President's urgent recommendation contained in his special message sent to Congress yesterday that four battleships be provided for in the Naval appropriation bill, that body is not likely to authorize more than two at this session.

"The naval committee will make provision in the Naval appropriation bill for only two battleships," said Senator Hale, chairman of the committee on naval affairs in an interview late yesterday.

"That number is sufficient and there is a possibility that only one may be provided for before the bill is finally passed. There is a strong sentiment at both ends of the Capitol in favor of only one ship, although, as I said before, appropriation will probably be made for two, but no more."

John Sharp Williams said that more than two thirds of the Democrats would vote against four battleships, and the Republican leaders appear confident that at least half of the Republicans would do likewise.

Why Rengo Reduces Fat.

Anti-Fats and Starvation Diet Result in Wrecking of the System.

Fat, as a general rule, comes from the failure of the digestive organs to do their work properly. It may come also from over-eating, but in these cases there is always some part of the food eaten which is not eliminated as it should be, but is made up in the form of fat and sent by the blood to various parts of the body. This accumulation continues constantly until within a comparatively short time, the heart becomes increased in a layer or coating of fat. The heart seems to be one of the first vital organs to become affected in this manner.

The food, therefore, in cases of fat is not properly assimilated—that is, part of the food is retained by the body, which should not be retained, and part which should be retained is thrown out. This does not always mean dyspepsia or indigestion, for one may have a very healthy stomach and yet begin to grow fat, through no apparent cause.

It is evident to any one, then, that to try to starve away the fat is both ridiculous and dangerous. It may or may not have the desired effect, but what is almost certain is that a starvation diet will give a shock to the whole system and wreck it. The victim then becomes a subject for the sanitarium or becomes an invalid. The same thing happens by trying to use anti-fats, remedies that positively stop digestion, something which is absurd and which, sooner or later results in a break down of some organ and consequent disease. Bright's Disease, Nephritis, Gastritis and Neuritis may quickly follow such treatments.

Tropical fruit is and has been known for years as a remarkable regulator of the system. By a persistent use of such a mixture the body will assume an absolutely normal condition, being neither too thin nor too large, and preserving the balance of all the organs, making the fortunate man or woman who uses it healthy and happy.

This is what Rengo does. It contains a tropical fruit mixture which has this faculty of perfectly assimilating food taken into the body. That is the secret. It has resulted in making Rengo a marvel as a fat reducer and a health builder, and a Godsend to all fat people.

Rengo is safe. It not only reduces your weight to normal, but it increases your health.

There is nothing "just as good" as Rengo. For sale by all druggists at $1.00 per full sized box, or by mail prepaid, by The Rengo Co., 2355 Rengo bldg., Detroit, Mich. ## ELSIE DE WOLFE TO DECORATE CROCKER HOME

MISS ELSIE DE WOLFE.

Has Made Success in Chosen Work

Miss Elsie de Wolfe arrived last night at the Fairmont, to remain during the coming week. Miss de Wolfe has come on from New York especially to plan and arrange the interior decorations of the new W. H. Crocker home at Burlingame, now being built by Louis Hobart.

Miss de Wolfe has been remarkably successful in her interior decorations of many notable houses during the past three years. The most famous girls' college in America, Brooks Hall, Barnard College, New York, with its ninety bedrooms, was planned, arranged and completed by Miss de Wolfe. It is the only girls' college in the country where private baths are attached to the bedrooms.

Perhaps Miss de Wolfe's most notable achievement is the famous Colony Club of New York, numbering among its members the most distinguished women from all over the country. Miss de Wolfe was two years at work on the Colony Club, which was made an object of study by the late Stanford White. Indisputably much of White's work would have counted for less had the finishing touches in the way of furnishing the clubhouse gone wrong. They did not go wrong because they were in the hand of Miss Elsie de Wolfe, whose own home in Irving place has long been a model in artistic furnishing.

Does Splendid Work.

The new winter garden of the Colony Club is alone a distinct achievement on the part of Miss de Wolfe. With its divans, chairs, growing plants and sunlight, it is a most interesting place that the members and their guests have enjoyed hugely. Incidentally it offers some charming suggestions as to fitting up a sun-parlor on one's own roof. In fact, Miss de Wolfe's work throughout the building is both artistic and appropriate to the architectural scheme. Miss de Wolfe was two years at work on the Colony Club. This was a much shorter period than was thought possible by the architects, who knew what there was to be done, but, added to her fine taste and keen judgment, Miss de Wolfe has a tremendous capacity for work, and when the time grew short she simply took up her abode in the unfinished building and had her men laboring nights and Sundays.

The women who have made a marked success in professional life, at least, but those who have made a mark in another with increased success are fewer still. It is in the latter remarkable class that Miss de Wolfe belongs, for she had an established position as an actress before she acquired an equally stable name as a decorator. The public that used to see her in unusually elaborate stage costumes is now pretty apt to find her with gingham apron and white gloves as conspicuous features of her attire in the Colony Club.

JEWISH PASSOVER TO BEGIN TONIGHT

Festival Commemorates Preservation and Liberation of Hebrews.

At sundown tonight the Jews of this city will usher in Pesah, or Passover, and will hold impressive services in the different synagogues closing tomorrow at sundown. Music of a sacred nature will feature the ceremonies. The Rev. Dr. Friedlander of the First Hebrew Synagogue will deliver a sermon on "Patrolism" tomorrow morning.

The festival commemorates the preservation and liberation of the entire people as they were spared in Egypt, when God, smiting the first-born of the Egyptians, passed over the houses of the Israelites which were marked with the blood of a lamb.

History of Event.

According to tradition, the first-born of the flock was offered that the lives of those born later might be safe.

It was the supposition that the mazzot and lamb used at the Passover meal before the exodus.

The agricultural character of the Passover festival is evidenced by the fact that it is one of the three pilgrim or season festivals. Of course, when the pastoral Passah, as agricultural mazzot came to be merged cannot be determined definitely, but according to authorities it is safe in saying that it must have been shortly after the occupation of Palestine.

Blood Was Sign.

The blood of the sacrifice sprinkled on the door posts of the Israelites was to be a sign to the angel of death when passing through the land to slay the first-born of the Egyptians, that night, that he should pass by the door of the Israelites. It was ordained that this observance should be repeated annually for all time. In the pre-exilic period, "Pesah" was rarely sacrificed in accordance with the legal prescriptions, but it was regularly observed during the time of the second temple and there was a definite ritual for it in addition to the regulations prescribed by the law.

The sacrificial animal, which was either a lamb or kid, was necessarily a male one year old, and without blemish. Each family or society offered one victim together. The animal was slain on the eve of the passover on the afternoon of the 14th of Nisan after the dark sacrifice had been killed, that is, at 3 o'clock, or in the case of the Passover fell on Friday, at 2 o'clock.

Caught by Priests.

The killing took place in the court of the temple, and might be performed by a layman, although the Levites and priests with gold or silver cups in their hands stood in line from the temple court to the altar, where the blood was sprinkled.

The priests taking part in the sacrifice were divided into three groups. The first of these filled the court of the temple, so that the gates had to be closed, while they were killing and offering paschal lamb, the Levites accompanied by instruments of brass.

Women and girls took part in the banquet and ate of the sacrifice.

The Mosaic system of animal feasts groups itself readily about the festival of the Passover. These feasts belong to the vernal equinox are three in number: a preparatory day that of the Passover, leads up to the principal, that of unleavened bread, which again is followed by an after feast, that of Pentecost.

He Got What He Needed.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing, of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so on the edge of life that I was on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at Osgood Bros' Drug Stores, 50c.

COURT WILL NOT STOP AMERICAN WOMAN'S TALK

Refuses to Issue Injunction to Keep Her Quiet.

LONDON, April 15.—The court yesterday refused to issue an injunction requested April 5 by Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis of Austria to restrain Josephine Moffatt from making a statement, alleging that she is the Prince's wife and that he fled from America to avoid his creditors.

The judge found that Miss Moffatt was not responsible for the publication in the London newspapers of a statement by the prince, which had been copied from an American paper. Counsel for Miss Moffatt declared that she maintained that she had gone through a form of marriage with the prince, who then left her to settle his debts.

OIL KING FINALLY GETS PROPERTY OF INNKEEPER

John D. Rockefeller Ends Long Contest by Paying $9500 for Lot.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., April 15.—John D. Rockefeller and his millions at last have won their long contest with Jake Melin, who has conducted the Anchor Inn, in North Tarrytown, right under the nose of Rockefeller's country home. The inn is to be wiped from the face of the earth. It was a costly victory for the oil king, in exchange for which he yielded only for the sake of his wife and baby and his own health.

For years he has refused to give way before the tempting offers of the oil king. Rockefeller has bought over 5000 acres all around him, but this obdurate Melin, with his tiny lot, 50x100 feet, almost within a stone's throw of the new $2,000,000 mansion now nearly completed, balked all Rockefeller's plans.

THE BATTLE OF BALLOTS IS NOW ON

The success of the Great Contest is assured—our most sanguine expectations are more than realized—the interest in this Popular Contest is spreading over the entire Pacific Coast like wildfire, and it will not be long before every hamlet, village and town will have its favorite contestant. The interest taken in San Francisco and Oakland is most gratifying—several prominent ladies have been named, and two of the leading churches were today nominated by enthusiastic friends—the Y. M. C. A. also came in for a large number of votes, and the contest has only just begun.

FULTON DENIES HENEY'S CHARGE

Before Crowd of 3000 U. S. Senator Gives Lie to Prosecutor's Accusations.

FORTLA, OR., April 15.—United States Senator, Charles W. Fulton, before an audience of about 3000 persons, tonight defended himself against the attacks made by Francis J. Heney, Senator Fulton's reply was temperate in tone, and judging by the applause with which various parts of the speech were received it was convincing to his hearers.

Fulton impugned Heney's motives in coming to Oregon, charging that his interest was the outgrowth of personal animosity rather than his interest in good government. He denied each of Heney's accusations of wrong doing and attacked the credibility of the evidence his antagonist has put forth.

A STANDING RULE.
"113A Gerrard, please. Hello! Is this the Club? Is my husband there? Hello! Not there? Well, all right then, but hold on. How do you know? Haven't even told you my name." "That's what I do."

What do you say when anybody asks you what you are going to spend the rest of the summer?
"I don't say anything. I just smile."
"What do you say when any one asks you, 'Is it hot enough?'"
"That's what I do."

Danger in a Cold

Because you have contracted ordinary cold, and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Not only pneumonia, but also the infectious diseases such as diphtheria and scarlet fever start with a cold. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of these diseases. Take our advice—cure your cold while you can.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

By its remarkable cures of colds has become a staple article of trade and commerce. It is prompt, it is effective, it is reliable. Try it.

THINK THAT MURDER IS RESULT OF FEUD

CHICAGO, April 15.—Valitto Pappa, a laborer, was shot and killed last night in Archer avenue under the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific tracks near Clark street.

When the body was discovered the police believed Pappa was a victim of the "black hand," but they became convinced later that the murder was the outcome of a feud.

D. Valenti, a saloonkeeper, said Pappa had some trouble last December with Joseph Bertucci, who at that time shot him in the leg. Pappa swore out a warrant for his assailant's arrest and it is the theory of the police that the murder was committed for revenge.

Bertucci was arrested not far from the scene of the murder an hour after it occurred.

S.S.S. CURES CATARRH

Catarrh is not merely a disease of the mucous membranes and inner linings of the body as some of the symptoms would seem to indicate; it is a deep-seated blood disease, in which the entire circulation and the great part of the system are involved. Like all other blood diseases, Catarrh comes from poisons and impurities accumulating in the circulation which irritate and inflame the tissues and mucous surfaces, and then the unpleasant symptoms of the disease are manifested. There is a ringing noise in the ears, a thin, watery discharge from the nostrils, filthy matter drops back into the throat, the breath has an offensive odor, and many other annoying and unpleasant symptoms are characteristic of the trouble. Sprays, washes, inhalations, etc., cannot reach the blood, and are therefore valuable only for the temporary relief they afford. To cure Catarrh the blood must be purified. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose; it goes down into the circulation, removes the catarrhal matter, purifies the blood and makes a lasting cure. When S. S. S. has removed the cause, the blood being pure and healthy nourishes the membranes and tissues instead of irritating them with noxious matter, and the symptoms all pass away. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

Lincoln-Roosevelt League.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt League was organized specially, it appears, to plead guilty in the name of the Republican party to all the high crimes and misdemeanors charged against the Republican party of this State by the Democratic press during the last thirty years. Indeed, the Republicans of California have never been so venomously and persistently villified by the opposition press as they are now villified by the organs of the so-called Lincoln-Roosevelt League. A group of newspapers, each one representing the griefs and ambitions of some would-be boss, reiterate from day to day that the Republican party in this State is the corrupt and servile agent of corporate interests; that the men who lead it are dishonest blackguards, and that the men it sends to the Senate and the House of Representatives are knavish demagogues, engaging in betraying their State and party to financial wolves. The judges of the higher courts placed on the bench by the Republican party are denounced as crooked tools of wealthy criminals. The great body of Federal officeholders are stigmatized as henchmen of corrupt bosses who in turn are pictured as the vassals of the Southern Pacific. The leading Republican journals of the State are branded as liars, blackmailers and predatory agents of the corporations.

Can this be true? Perhaps it would be well to inquire into the antecedents and credibility of the witnesses who say it is. First and foremost, there is the Call, which is owned by the Spreckels family, and reflects the temper, aspirations, methods and enmities of Rudolph Spreckels; a sheet that defends the sugar trust and denounces Standard Oil; that lifts up its hands in holy horror at so-called "high finance," but has clutched in them the proceeds of the Oceanic Steamship swindle, the gas job and the Valley Railroad bunco, and is now reaching out for a ship subsidy grab.

Next in order comes the Los Angeles Express, owned by E. T. Earl, who was for many years head of the Earl Fruit Company. This concern grew fat and enriched Mr. Earl on railroad rebates and favorable discrimination in other ways. Mr. Earl, having sold out his interest in the fruit company and bought a newspaper, has turned anti-railroad man and is fiercely indignant at rebates and discriminations granted by the railroads. He has set up to be a boss and has his eyes fixed on a seat in the Senate. He bolted the Republican ticket in 1906.

The third of the group is the Fresno Republican, owned by Dr. Chester Rowell, disappointed aspirant for the Japanese mission. Rowell also has Senatorial aspirations. He assisted in defeating Pardee and nominating Gillett at Santa Cruz, allowing the delegates he controlled to be programmed clear down the line by Walter Parker, land agent of the Southern Pacific. Then his paper knifed Gillett all during the campaign and now lauds Dr. Pardee as the victim of corporate revenge. The Republican is edited by a frothy, sophomoric ass who thinks people will believe him great and pure if he keeps calling those who differ with him thieves and liars.

Last in the list is the Oakland Enquirer, ex-Governor Pardee's personal organ, and to which he contributes weekly articles signed "Wayfarer." Pardee was nominated for Governor at Sacramento by the party machine, he having become by a patronage deal the residuary legatee of Henry T. Gage. All the organization men the Enquirer now so fiercely denounces assisted in nominating and electing Pardee, who was a machine candidate, and pleaded in vain to be made the machine candidate again. Pardee personally sought the support of William F. Herrin and Abraham Ruef for renomination. His antagonism to the Republican organization dates from the time its leaders refused to support him again because he had failed to keep his promises.

This, then, is the coterie of personal organs that is reviling the Republican party of California and accusing its leaders as being dishonest and unworthy.

In his speech at Salem, Or., Francis J. Heney declared that he had not said the Appellate and Supreme Courts of California were corrupt. He added, however, that "some courts are corrupt and I know them to be corrupt." We do not doubt it. Heney is reputed to have been intimately acquainted with a corrupt judge in Arizona. It is a matter of judicial record that he got scandalously mixed up with a jury empaneled in Solomonville to try a case in which he appeared as attorney. Heney also knows Judges Dunne and Lawlor of midnight conference fame.

Terse Press Comment

Pneumatic Street
Sweeping is Theoretically the Best.

There is much dissatisfaction with the old-fashioned street-sweeping machines now used in this city. They whirl much dust and debris into the air and fall to clean the channels of the street-car tracks, which it is important to have thoroughly cleaned. The accumulations of dust and litter in these channels is constantly sucked up and distributed through the streets by the rapidly moving electric cars, and any sweeping system which fails to remedy this nuisance cannot be satisfactory.

But there are two other methods, either of which would appear to be much better than hand sweeping in the use of the old style of sweeping machine with its revolving broom. One of these newer methods is flushing from tank cars or fire hose, so as to scour the pavement, including the street-car channels and the gutters, by which means the streets may be thoroughly washed if sufficient water be employed and enough pains taken. What appears to be still better, however, is the pneumatic sweeping machine adopted in numerous municipalities, which cleans the streets on the plan now much used for house-cleaning. The machine operates on the suction principle, using compressed air. The dust and all small litter capable of being blown about by the wind is sucked up by these machines and deposited in a tank or chamber provided for the purpose, and so carried away.

Theoretically this method is ideal, for such a machine neither scatters dust over the surface of the street nor whips it into the air, and it leaves nothing to be done by hand. If inquiry shall show that this pneumatic system gives good results in practice it is what Sacramento should adopt. And it should be an easy matter for the City Trustees to obtain full information on the subject.—Sacramento Bee

Respond Heartily to Request of Committee

The official finance committee on entertaining to the real estate men of the following letter to the real estate men of Oakland:

"To the Real Estate Men of Oakland, California:

"Gentlemen: We, the committee on finance, appointed by Mayor Frank K. McKittrick for the purpose of raising a fifty thousand dollar ($50,000.00) fund for the purpose of entertaining the members of Admiral Evans' fleet, which is expected to arrive in the bay of San Francisco in May, and it is generally known that Oakland is making extensive preparations to welcome the men and officers of this fleet in an elaborate and befitting manner commensurate with the importance of such an event and in keeping with the standing and dignity of the great city of Oakland.

"We therefore feel in the raising of money for this fund that the real estate men of Oakland will gladly contribute twenty-five hundred ($2500.00) dollars as their share toward said fund.

"Believing that we can expect your usual prompt and liberal co-operation, we are

Yours respectfully,
"THEO. GIER, Chairman."

Will Respond.
President A. J. Snyder of the Oakland

Real Estate Association has appointed the following committee to solicit subscriptions among the real estate fraternity only:

Wm. J. Layman (chairman), George B. M. Gray, J. H. Macdonald, John C. Hill, J. Tyrrell.

No class of men realizes more quickly the importance of prompt and liberal action than real estate men on so important an occasion of this kind. Today the committee stated that the fact of Secretary Metcalf, the personal representative of the President of the United States making his headquarters in Oakland is such an unusual honor that it becomes a pleasure to make up a liberal fund to entertain Uncle Sam's officers, and the boys behind the guns, and in so doing we do honor to the President of the United States through his personal representative, Secretary Metcalf, and also "honor to whom honor is due" to Secretary Metcalf of Oakland, who has so ably honored this city in giving it representation in such a high place as the executive body of our national government, to wit, secretary of the United States navy.

This committee is working hard to complete its fund at once, and the amount of twenty-five hundred ($2500.00) dollars allotted to the real estate men will be fully subscribed.

BITEN BY AN "ANGEL."

A lot of 3 years was put to bed, her first night in New Jersey by her mother, with the words, "Now, go to sleep, darling, and remember the angels are flying about your little crib and keeping you from harm."

A few minutes later the patter of little feet was heard and a little white-robed figure emerged from the bedroom.

"Why, darling, what's the matter?" said the mother.

"I don't like the angels," sobbed the little girl.

"Why, dearie, why not?"

SUICIDES ON THE EVE OF HER MARRIAGE

NEW YORK, April 15.—Whether it was depression or the death of the mother who left her at the Christmas of some strange inexplicable doubt of her self that drove Mary Green to suicide on the eve of her marriage, no one will ever know. Love and youth were still strong in her happy stretched before, and it was only between the tender lines she left the man whose name she was to soon to have borne that the tragedy started out.

Some time between 9 o'clock yesterday morning when her brother, a subway engineer, left her merry and smiling to take his morning rest, and noon when they found her Mary Green, who was twenty-eight years old, went into the bath room off his room in their little apartment at 227 East Ninety-fifth street, fastened a rubber tube to the gas jet, placed it between her head to hold it in place and sat down in a chair to sleep her life away.

Up to a fortnight previous she had been a saleswoman in a fifth avenue department store and had given up her position to plan for her wedding with William Edgington who is in the electrical supply business in Yonkers. The wedding was set for next Wednesday. Edgington had been with her the night before. They had been making their last purchases for the little home in the Bronx which he had prepared for his bride and the girl was full of eager hope.

When William Green returned to the house for his breakfast at 7 o'clock yesterday morning he found the same joyful face to greet him. There was no sign to give warning of her purpose. Edgington, who lives above the Greens, first detected the escaping gas. He went down stairs and summoned Patrolman Walsh of the East Ninety-eighth street station. Together they broke into the Green home, and found the girl dead in her chair, the note beside her the only clue to the reason for the deed. It was to her lover as follows:

DEAR BILL, Forgive me for what I am about to do. Please take care of my mother. Forgive and pity me. You know I have had all kinds of trouble since mother died at Christmas. I hate to make you feel bad. God help me and help you. All I have is your love, and devotionally, MAY.

That was all. Edgington said there had not been the faintest cloud between them. Green, who had to be aroused from semi-sleep caused by the fumes of the escaping gas, collapsed when confronted with his sister's dead body.

Woman Has Profitable Occupation as Bulb Grower

A Georgia woman has raised and succeeded in a new occupation. She planted cotton for two years because when her brother married the cotton planter in fell into her hands. Ever since she could remember cotton had been raised, and every year they ran short.

She tried neat flour, molasses, sugar, rice, corn, everything except tea, coffee and tobacco. She went to the tea plantations in South Carolina which have made money for women, but realized that her home soil was not adapted to the growing of tea.

Her mother suggested that she raise bulbs instead. She knew from her own garden that bulbs took kindly to the place. She and her mother dug up some of them and sent them to four firms of florists and two sent them orders. Encouraged by this mother and daughter so tried out enough to plant more and the next year they harvested the bulbs, sorted and shipped them to the florists.

The response was immediate and business was begun. The next year they increased their business and they did not add more varieties but simply to send the best possible bulbs they could grow. They are now established in success.

NOBLEWOMEN ARE SKILLED WORKERS

Many princesses and other ladies of the Royal houses of Europe would be able of earning good incomes as skilled workers were they suddenly deprived of their rank and wealth. Princess Hermine Reuss for instance, a skilled watchmaker and has frequently shown her work at various German exhibitions. Perhaps the most curious royal hobby of all, however, is that of the Archduchess Friedrich of Austria, who makes beautifully scented wax candles which she molds and prepares with her own fingers.

Noblewomen Hunt Ferocious Beasts

The Countess of Sefton, who recently shot her first lion in Abyssinia, is by no means the only society lady who has accomplished this unbecoming feat. Mrs. Van Gardner accompanied by her late husband explored not only India but the wildest and most remote parts of Africa including Somaliland in search of big game and one of the very few women living who have hunted both lions and tigers. Another adventurous sports-woman in English society is the Duchess of Somerset, who has not only hunted bears in the Western wilds of America but perfectly retails in the rough life of camp and is an expert in camp cooking.

Where Clothespins Come From

Tucked away in the northeast corner of the county down in Maine is a good sized town where the people make their living from clothespins and nail handles. Some may have wondered where all the clothespins come from which are used by the housewives throughout the country on wash day. This Maine town makes more clothespins than any other place in the world. While the bulk of the wooden handles which are strung on the wire racks by which we carry pails and other receptacles also come from Brant Pond the name of the Yankee community.

An idea of what the country needs in the way of clothespins and nail handles can be gained when it is stated that about 4000 acres of New England's timberlands are owned entirely by the people in this town and the birch trees which comprise it are felled in this vast tract are used for no other purpose. Three big buildings are required for the wonderful machinery.

The first process in the manufacture of the clothespins or nail handles is to saw the logs into lengths of about two and one-half feet each. These lengths are rapidly split by another saw into thin slabs which are in turn converted into long square strips by gang saws. Deft hands toss these strips into a revolving drum which bears them against still other saws and turns them out in the form of oblong blocks. Falling upon a moving belt the blocks are whirled away to a number of lathes.

If the blocks are to become nail handles they are bored in a most ingenious fashion on lathes running at a high rate of speed. If they are destined for clothespins they are simply turned into the desired shape.

From the lathes a belt conveys the clothespins to a "lotter" which rapidly cuts the slot the pins emerge with two symmetrical legs and are swiftly borne by still a third belt to the upper floor.

Soda Water Flows From Her Own Soda Fountain

NEW YORK, April 15.—Oh, raspberry raptness! Mrs. Gertrude Rhine, under the name of just claim to being the only society woman in New York who has a real live soda-fountain in her bedroom says today. Topics Mrs. Rhine's fountain is always in perfect condition as it is looked after regularly by a chemist. There are five exquisitely mounted silver taps from which gush the following exclusive flavors: After-dinner which the lady feels compelled to drink whenever she is around it of the late Mr. Wildo whom it will be remembered went to pieces through an unfortunate concoction of landaunum and ether ambrosia, which she takes when sleep does not cross her fair brow. Nectar as a treat to inspire Dutch courage when wearing one of her evening dresses in defiance to Mr. Hitchcock and the entertainment club. Turkish delight to conjure up sweet languor in the arms of artist friends, and lemon which she hands out liberally to unwelcome guests who do not find it convenient to show their resentment.

The rest of Mrs. Rhine's house is equally remarkable. It is one of the finest examples of early Senator Clark in existence. Considerable attention has been paid to the preservation of the atmosphere of the period, the carpets having never been removed from the floors and the piano never tuned.

Nine Baby Millionaires Result of Strange Will

NEW YORK, April 15.—The S. K. M. estate probably derive some satisfaction from the fact that their son and heir has been dubbed the three-million dollar baby. Owing to the peculiar will of the late Otto Young, Mrs. Martin's father, his children will be materially better off if they contribute to the world's population. His daughter Marie, who married one of the Marquette, Mich., Kauf-

Turkish Woman Engaged in Settlement Work

Mianzara Kaprielian is a graduate of the American college for girls in Constantinople and conducts a social settlement in the village of Chalgara. She reports that her nearest villagers are catching the good disease of cleanliness. Some began to wash their windows and houses.

Miss Kaprielian is with them and among them cleaning up houses, washing clothes, making bread and setting up stoves for their looms.

She loves her villagers and loves to do anything for them. She hopes there will be many young women who will take roughing lessons in winter when they get through their field work.

She has been given money to buy land and build thereon a model cottage to live in but for the present is installed in a room. Each corner has its special use: a bedroom, a sitting room, a pantry, and a kitchen with a big oven. Perhaps the exhibition at St. Louis had less admiration than this mysterious room which charmed all the village women who came in group after group to see.

One said: "You have gathered flowers of seven mountains in your room." Another: "Surely God will be found in this room. It is so clean. One asked naïvely how Miss Kaprielian could bear to leave these things when she should die."

This settlement worker conducts preaching services in a stable, which hurts her feelings badly.

YE DOUBTING SWAIN

As I look deep in her tender eyes—
As her red lips boldly pout at me
Luring mine to win their sweetest prize—
Still my heart must ever crave be,
Mock and gibe and make of love a joke
'Will she will she love you when you're broke?'

As a wind tossed tree blows to my cheek,
And I feel the hot blood mounting there,
And my heart fails so I may not speak
'Still my heart must taunt me. Have a care!'

With your gaudy rage my boy in snark
Will she will she love you when you're broke?
Once a wan moon coursed through yonder sky
And arbutus-bloom perfumed the air
With her hand in mine I wondered why
One could call this kind earth else but fair—

Yet my skeptic heart would wisely spoke
Will she will she love you when you're broke?

REMARKABLE VIGOR OF AGED ACTRESS

Passes Three Score and Ten and Is Able to Appear on Stage.

The last of the tragedy queens. This description has been applied to Miss Genevieve Ward who has just made a welcome reappearance on the stage in spite of the fact that she is over seventy years of age. Equally remarkable is the fact that Miss Ward has been before the public for more than half a century and yet she confesses that she feels as if she were only seventeen. Miss Ward attributes her "plendid health and energy to the simple life she leads. 'I am very fond of the open air,' she says, 'and every day whenever I am in Rome or London I make it a point to walk three or four miles. I then believe in physical exercise of any sort—especially the dumb bell. As soon as I get up in the morning I practice for at least half an hour. Sandow who has seen me practicing, says that I shall certainly live another seventy years. And feeling as strong as I do I really believe I shall.'

How to Love and Avoid Divorce By the Use of Auto Suggestion

CHICAGO, April 15.—Bishop Samuel Fallows of the Reformed Episcopal Church who founded Christian Psychology, has taken another plunge into the occult. He announces a remedy to unite estranged husbands and wives and kill off the divorce evils. It is to be done by suggestion and auto-suggestion. He told all about it in an address on the "psychology of doubt."

The bishop declared he had used the method successfully. He also gave an instance in which it had been used by a Chicago lawyer to prevent a divorce between a man and wife. To begin with when a man or woman desires to win back his or her mate the mind must be kept in a receptive condition. The bishop continues:

One cannot believe until he puts himself in the position to believe. One cannot love unless one puts himself in the position to love, one cannot continue to love unless one wills to continue to love. Of course we cannot will to love and then love, or will to believe and then believe.

"What the will can do is to create by auto-suggestion a will in this subconsciousness to continue in love or to believe. This I make use of in my efforts to reunite people who have entered into the holy bonds of matrimony and who think that they have ceased to love each other. I have never before made public what I say in these private conversations, but I will do so tonight to illustrate my point."

"The first thing to do when one of these persons comes to me thinking that he or she has ceased to love is to set the will in operation to bring to the sub-consciousness a consciousness of the past. It is idle to say, 'You must love one another.' No amount of will can bring that about but the will can summon recollections of the past."

"I say to the troubled one, if a woman 'Go back over your whole life. Go back and reflect the time that you were being wooed and won. Did you take a great magnifying glass then to look for faults? Were you happier then than now? They say that love is blind, but this is not true. Love is limited in the whole world is more keen sighted to see good qualities. You are blind to the good and taking a magnifying glass to the faults. Go back into the past and think of the way you loved. Recall the good times you have had together.'

"In this way is created by auto-suggestion the will to continue in love, which may prove more powerful than the false belief that they cannot love. This same method can bring about marriage.

Bishop Fallows concluded with these epigrams:

Love once and you must love always. Love cannot be killed once it is instilled. There is no earthly power that can make two people fall in love with each other. If two people really love each other once that love can always be revived. Deep in their hearts they will always love one another. Divorces are but the climax of half-hearted battles."

PARENTS CLAIM BABY ABANDONED IN LOT

ATLANTA CITY, N. J., April 15.—Jessie Claas, a pretty young woman who claims the 2-months-old baby whose abandonment and subsequent finding on a lot on California avenue created a sensation pleaded with Recorder Hayes, to be allowed to marry Arthur Lyons and have the blue-eyed boy returned.

Court loungers and prisoners in the police dock wept in sympathy with the young woman and cheered when Recorder Hayes and Assistant Prosecutor Bolte consented to the marriage of the pair instead of punishing them for the attempt to abandon the youngster. The knot was tied by the allowed to leave the room with her baby clasped close in her arms.

The marriage made a happy ending to what might have been a tragedy. When Frank Jones, a young friend of the pair rushed into the police station carrying the child, he asserted that he had heard his cries on a vacant lot in Chelsea and had "rescued" it.

He questioned the man and the detective questioned her and he and the father of the child left it where it could have been found and cared for by strangers.

So far as can be learned, the young woman knew nothing of the plan, but believed that the baby was to be taken to Philadelphia to be placed in charge of a woman.

Jones sympathized with the pretty child proved too much for him, and he carried the baby to headquarters, hoping that his tale of finding it would not be questioned.

The pair were arrested and held on the charges of cruelty to the child. Together in trouble, they made upferences that had estranged them.

PREPARING FOR BIG BARBECUE

Fleet Committee Working Hard on Reception to Men of Navy.

All the sub-committees of the fleet committees are working overtime this week. Arrangements are being completed for the big barbecue to be held at the Willows. It is the intention of the committee that this shall be a most agreeable affair, and in order to insure the serving of a good hot meal, a system of gas stoves is going to be installed on the grounds to take care of the smaller accessories, while there will be several big pits properly dug and fixed up by Spanish and Mexican barbecue chefs for the proper cooking of the beefs and sheep.

Arrangements are being completed for the landing of the fleet at the various piers of the city and in order to accommodate the great number of men it will be necessary to build special floats. Invitations have been sent to all uniformed ranks of fraternal societies asking them to participate in the parade, and it is expected that all these invitations will be accepted.

The finance committee is struggling to raise the necessary funds. Only about one-third of the required amount is yet collected and not more than one half is yet in sight, including all the pledges and promises. Now that the real significance and importance of the fleet's visit is becoming apparent, it is believed that the laborers of the finance committee will meet with a proportionate amount of added success.

church music on the coast.

That public interest in the performance of this choral masterpiece was unusual was fully demonstrated by an attendance of eighteen hundred people.

After a short address by the pastor, Rev. C. R. Brown, who spoke on the meaning and character of the oratorio, which deals with the "Tragedy of Calvary," the organ prelude to the "Stabat Mater" was effectively rendered by Miss Virginia de Fremery, organist.

While the performance of the work as a whole was without reproach, particular mention may be made of the quartet number, "Quiesce Homo." The interpretation of this number was exquisite, the voices blending in harmonious ensemble.

The solos by Mrs. Nicholson and Mr. Perry were sung with artistic effect. The duet for soprano and tenor, "Fac ut portem Christi mortem," sung by Mrs. Northrup and Mr. Anderson gave ample opportunity to show the range of their voices.

The qualities of Mr. Anderson's voice were brought out in his rendition of "Fac me vere."

The singing of the "Stabat Mater" was ably conducted by Alexander T. Stewart.

DECLARE SPRING WATERS DOCTORED

Gas People Say Chemicals Are Used in the Saratoga Plant.

ALBANY, April 15.—During a hearing before the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday on a bill to prohibit pumping in the vicinity of the Saratoga Springs, the statement was made that the waters of the famous Saratoga Springs have been systematically doctored for years.

In support of the charge the natural carbonic gas concern has filed many affidavits. The bill is aimed at this concern which is said to have $1,000,000 invested in the works. The supporters of the bill admitted that some springs had run dry and artificial means had been employed to resuscitate them but denied that chemicals had been used.

Tells of Methods.

C. W. Warriss, representing the gas people, said: "The Saratoga waters have lost their prestige because of adulteration and increased output of water for the market. We present numerous affidavits made after investigation, showing the existence of underground piping, private rooms, concealed tanks, the use of natural and manufactured gas for carbonation, the employment of chemicals and their secret conveyance by night to these private rooms, where solutions have been prepared for mixture with the water of the springs."

Warriss said one spring gave out as long ago as 1891. Salt, vitriol and marble dust, he said, were used to generate the gas and fresh water was charged with it. Manufactured water is served to visitors at the springs and sold to the trade as natural Saratoga water. The gas thus claimed are regulated to suit various tastes.

TRUSTEES TO CALL ANOTHER SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

To Take Definite Action at Special Meeting Early Next Week.

BERKELEY, April 15.—It has been decided that the school board will call for another bond election for $250,000, and give the voters an opportunity to either further emphasize the verdict against the bond idea of last Saturday or indicate an overwhelming change of mind. With an imperative need of funds to carry on the department and make room for the increase in school population, with the possibility of a new bond issue, the board finds itself in a deep water, and at a special meeting to be held Tuesday night next will issue the formal call for the second attempt at a bond issue.

On behalf of the Republican City Central Committee, Charles E. Thomas and F. W. Richardson appeared last night with a petition asking the board to make an immediate call for another election, to guarantee the cost of polling the votes in case the majority was lacking. Similar requests came from the Lincoln Roosevelt League, and the Berkeley Bryan Club.

Wants to Know Desires of People.

Director Crawford declared while he favored the second election, that there was no need for this speed, and moreover he wanted to learn the desires of the people of Berkeley and "not the politicians."

If the people of Berkeley cannot determine for themselves whether or not they desire better schools without being instructed by the politicians, it is time to shut up shop and go home, he said.

"It is apparent, according to the results of the election, that 8000 people in Berkeley don't care whether school keeps on or not, and the majority of the voters are not going to carry tomorrow, but because of a sense of shame. The people of Berkeley have created a condition and they should be taught a lesson. We will have to close the schools the first week in May. A new bond issue would not help us to postpone this evil day, but it might enable us to make improvements in the coming year. The bond issue was endorsed by every improvement club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Real Estate Exchange, and the Manufacturers Association. They all promised us their support and to vote for it. They did not keep their word. Did they mean it? No. The business men of Berkeley consider the school department only as a barrier to their progress. It is a nuisance to them to put on their advertising circulars. However, the children must be considered and the teachers, and I am willing to submit the bond plan again to the people. But I think they will wait a week before taking action."

To Avert Early School Closing.

"Well, if you gentlemen want to avert the improvement clubs and the Chamber of Commerce, well and good," said Director Thomas. "We think they need it. We see you are going to issue the call for another election and it may just as well go over for a week."

Investigations by Superintendent Watterman and Town Auditor Hanson promise that the threatened closing of the schools may be averted. There is money enough in right to carry on the classes until May 1. If the bond call is made the fate of the bonds will be known on May 16. If they carry it is probable that the local banks will provide emergency money for studies pending the sale of the bonds.

At a meeting of the Berkeley Bryan Club last night the following committee to work in behalf of the school bonds was appointed: R. A. Bell, S. J. Hill, Clyde F. Abbott, R. B. Bell and Edwin Swinford.

TOTS TO SING AS JACKIES PASS AMID MAZE OF GREEN BAND TO PLAY IN WINE-COVERED BOWERS

Mast Lined Streets Will Gleam With Festoons of Blue and Gold.

BERKELEY, April 15.—At an enthusiastic meeting of the fleet entertainment committees last night, plans for the big celebration were completed and only details remain to be worked out.

Promises of assistance and co-operation were received from all the societies, civic, fraternal and social, in town, and every indication shows that the reception will be a greater success than its promoters hoped for. The decorative features are receiving much consideration. Charles Keeler, the poet and artist, has been made a practical plan of the prosaic world for the time being, and is supervising this important part. Keeler and John Galen Howard, the architect, have arranged an effective scheme of street dressing, which will transform Center street and Shattuck avenue into a maze of flowers and shrubbery. Every detail will be worked out with a view to having a harmonious effect.

Festooned Masts.

Center street will be clothed in green from Shattuck avenue to the entrance of the University. Masts are to be erected on both sides of the street. Garlands of 1 foot 6 inches of blue and gold will be strung across the street at regular intervals, and the distances between the masts will be filled in with dark green and flowers.

The committee will take special charge of the interlacing of bands of blue and gold with the other decorations, in order that this may be done according to one symmetrical plan.

Business men have been requested to confine their decorations to garlands and festoons of greens, so that the effect may be harmonious and artistic.

Amid these bowers and aisles of beautiful shrubbery the school children will have stations, where they will be drilled to sing as the sailors pass by, the effect being that of a fairyland, with occasional glimpses of the elves.

Music From Bowers.

The fact that no definite time can as yet be set for the boys of the fleet to appear on the morning of May 14, makes it impossible to plan for the parade of the school children, and the idea of having them grouped in bowers of green, according to schools and classes, where they can sing school and patriotic songs and still enjoy the day, is considered the best plan. Besides, it will make a beautiful and picturesque scene, and will serve to provide a part of the music for the occasion.

In addition to this, a large band will be concealed in a stand of green near the Southern Pacific station, and will play popular and patriotic airs during the morning when the members of the fleet are arriving from across the bay.

Jackies' Stunts.

Olle F. Snediger, chairman of the entertainment committee, who has arranged for the athletic entertainment on the streets prior to the program on the University grounds, the children will carry different flowers as emblems of the various schools and classes, the effect being the brightest and most beautiful imaginable.

CHARLES KEELER, in charge of decorating.

range for the athletic entertainment on the campus at California field reported last night that he had communicated the athletic program to the committee with the fleet at San Diego and that he expects to hear from the naval heroes shortly.

Several surprises in the way of strictly sailor stunts will be added to the program as already published, but the exact nature of these has not been given yet. Snediger, who is graduate manager of athletics at the University of California, has suggested an unusually interesting athletic program for the day, but states that this may be tame beside some of the novel features to be introduced by the boys of the battleships.

REFUSE TO PAY RAT CATCHERS

Berkeley Town Trustees for Second Time Repudiate Bill of $810.

BERKELEY, April 15.—A bill of $810 for rat-catching is causing all sorts of trouble among the trustees. It was repudiated for the second time last night by the board, Mayor Ferrier and Trustees Gompertz and Schmidt voted in its favor.

This is the money for which the rat-catchers struck some days ago. The money was back to work again under the name of the Citizens' Committee, and the prospects for their recovering their back salary from the town is not very promising.

When the matter came to a vote last night, Mayor Ferrier and Trustees Gompertz and Schmidt, who had charge of the arrangements with Dr. Long and the committee, voted in favor of drawing the warrants for the salaries. Trustees Connor, Schach, Faylor and Olsen, who repudiated the action of the committee, stated that they had understood that the extra rat catchers, Connor wanted to know what had become of the money raised by this committee, while Schach suggested that there might be some means of passing the bill back to them.

The matter will come up with the presentation of the bill for the third time at the next meeting, together with the bill for the eight months of the new month prior to the taking over of the sanitary campaign by the new committee of capitalists and business men which is due now. The bill for $810 was for the rat catching up to the first of the month and the new committee did not take hold until April 8.

ALAMEDA BREVITIES

Open Tract to Public.—The Captain R. Thompson grounds at the east end, which are considered to afford an ideal site for one of the proposed playgrounds to be purchased by the city, has been opened to the general public for inspection. The grounds are beautifully landscaped and contain many rare trees, flowers and shrubs that were planted under the direction of the late Captain R. Thompson, who at one time occupied a mansion located on the grounds. The residence was destroyed by fire eleven years ago and since that time the grounds have been in charge of a keeper and sightseers have been barred from the grounds.

Oppose Tree Cutting.—The Adolphus Club has placed itself on record as being opposed to the practice of some realty agents and landowners in having the trees on various lots throughout the city cut down for the purpose of enhancing the value of the property. ## AT THE RACETRACK--IN HOLY CHURCH

GERMAN CHANCELLOR RECEIVED BY POPE

Pontiff Receives Prince in Private Conference.

ROME, April 15.—Pope Pius today received in private audience Prince Von Buelow. The pontiff was greatly pleased to be able to speak with them in Italian and said he hoped that the prince hereafter would be able to visit him in the Vatican and his conference with Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, would bring about an understanding in regard to Catholic conditions in Germany.

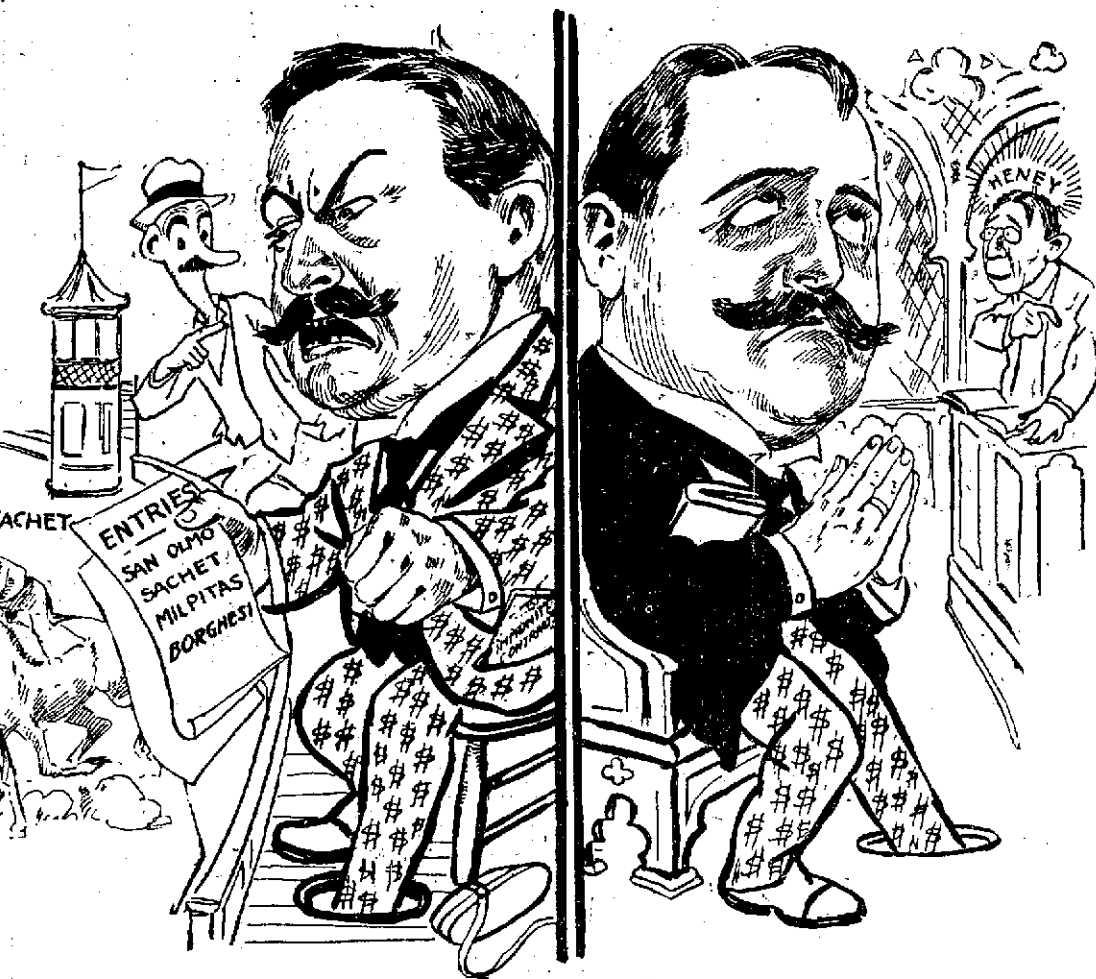

The chancellor was with the Pope for one hour, when the questions concerning the Vatican and Germany were discussed.

CLAIMS HUSBAND A NEGRO; WANTS MARRIAGE ANNULLED

Found After Marriage That He Was a Mulatto.

Lille Mary McKutcherson, alleging that she found her husband, Thaddeus A. McKutcherson, to be a mulatto, commenced suit yesterday to annul her marriage. Mrs. McKutcherson was married April 8, 1906, and says that after marriage she found McKutcherson was a negro. According to the laws of this State the marriage is null and void.

Subsequently the prince visited Cardinal Merry Del Val and talked with him for half an hour.

HONOR OF PROFESSOR EMERITUS CONFERRED

FRANK SOULE HAS RETIRED

Regents of State University Announce Promotions and Discuss Budget.

Perfected plans for a greater University were received by the Board of State University Regents at its annual meeting yesterday. The plans provide for the physical development of the University along definite architectural lines.

In 1888, H. J. M. E. Bonard, a Frenchman, was awarded the prize in an international competition for the best plans for the University. The plans were called for by Mrs. Phoebe Hearst. These plans were turned over to Professor John G. Howard, since their inception practically $200,000 has been spent on their preparation.

Although they have not been finally accepted, the proposed work is progressing and $200,000 will be expended on the new library building next year.

Made Professor Emeritus.

The regents yesterday conferred the honor of Professor Emeritus on Frank Soule, who has been connected with the University of California for thirty-nine years. He will be succeeded as professor of civil engineering by Charles Derleth Jr.

President Wheeler's recommendations to the Board were adopted. Among these were that Joseph Grinnell be appointed director of the California Museum of Vertebrates; that the following county officials be appointed to the honorary positions of field assistants in connection with expedition station work in entomology to serve the University without pay: J. S. Hunter, field assistant in mosquito studies in San Mateo county; Earl Morris, field assistant in Santa Clara county in a study of the life history of the California peach root borer and treatment thereof; W. H. Volk, field assistant in Monterey county in the control of the potato worm, and in Santa Cruz county in a special study of control measures for the woolly aphid; that Professor A. E. Taylor be given leave of absence to attend the meeting in Washington of the Referee Board on the pure food act, to which he has been appointed by the President; that Rufus M. Grant, instructor of Carpentry in the Wilkesing School, have leave of absence without impairment of salary.

The Swine and the Flower
Oh me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty,
Wherein a drove of wallowing swine
were bared,
Which banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;
Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of food!"
I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first
One glistening mass of roses pure and white,
With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage
nursed.
And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight,
The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene,
Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLINE!"

FLEET WILL UNITE TWO COUNTRIES

Australian Says His Country and America Will be Drawn Closer.

NEW ORLEANS, April 15.—In a letter published here today from Venour Nathan, secretary at Sidney, of the Immigration League of Australia, concerning the approaching visit of the American battleships to that country, Mr. Nathan says:

"We have immense areas of land, agricultural and pastoral, quite undeveloped, only waiting population. If the visit of your fleet can only make the people of the two nations realize what they are to each other and what sympathies we have in common, we feel sure that it would lead to a great interchange of peoples, settlers and tourists. If we could draw some of your surplus numbers to ourselves and make ourselves a little more American we know it would be to the advantage of Australia."

CONGRATULATES OAKLAND ON ITS WIDE-AWAKE PAPER

Mrs. Augusta Bainbridge Back From Temperance Campaign.

Editor TRIBUNE—Oakland is to be congratulated on having a paper that will report temperance news. I have just returned from an extended trip through Solano and Santa Clara counties visiting fifteen towns, holding nine institutes, giving eighty-four addresses to 212 classes in schools, fourteen evening addresses, nine mothers' meetings, five Sunday services, beside children's meetings, calls on interested and uninterested persons—and here I am hard at work getting ready for another trip. Hardly time to read my mail.
